

ENVIRONMENTAL AFFAIRS AND ADVANCED ENGINEERING TECHNOLOGIES COMMITTEE PRESENTS:

Lunchtime Technical Session

Tuesday, June 27, 2006 11:30 AM - 1:00 PM

NYC Dept of Buildings (Room 320) 280 Broadway, NY 10007

TITLE: WHERE TO LOOK TO INVEST IN SUSTAINABLE MARKETS

PRESENTER: SUZANNE DIGERONIMO FAIA

Suzanne DeGeronimo is a member of both the NYC and NJ Posts of SAME and the NYC and NJ Chapters of the US Green Buildings Council. She is a member of the Academy of Fellows of the Society of American Military Engineers.

About the Topic: Increasingly investors are seeking to place funds in green/ sustainable/ high performance areas. Questions that will be addressed:

---What are the three components of such areas?

---How would I be able to identify a program with high return possibilities from one destined to languish?

Premise: Understanding that science and technology already exist and merely need to be expanded to improve our global environment while preserving our natural life support systems.

Come to learn more about green/ sustainable/ high performance (1) Products/ materials, (2) Technology, (3) Development Real Estate Investment Trusts (REIT's) and (4) good sustainable architecture and planning practices.

RESERVATIONS REQUIRED

To make a reservation, contact

joe.porrovecchio@njmeadowlands.gov

Who: The NY City Post Society of American Military Engineers (SAME)

What: Training workshop on Applicability of USGBC initiatives.

When: On 27 June from 11:30 to 1 PM

Where: At NYC Dept of Buildings (room 320) 280 Broadway, NY 10007

Why: Environmental Affairs and Advanced Technology Committee, SAME conducts training workshop and seminars that transfer technology and offer continued education credit. These events jointly benefit local membership to sponsor/host organization specifically in this case: USGBC Chapters and SAME. Introduce series of presentations and seminars in the Metro NY/NJ area.

How: Encourage benefits of Chapter membership to architect/engineer professional community at no cost to participants who must register electronically for building access.

Reservations: joe.porrovecchio@njmeadowlands.gov